Lamentations 1:6-9

Waw. And from Daughter Zi- on all her maj-esty has de-parted; her princes have be-come like stags that can find no pasture, and that run without strength be-fore the hunter. Za-yin. Je-ru-sa-lem remembers in the days of her affliction and bit-terness all the precious things that were hers from the days of old; when her people fell into the hand of the foe, and there was none to help her; the adversar-y saw her, and mocked at her downfall.
Heth. Je-ru-sa-lem has sinned greatly, therefore she has be-come a thing unclean; all who hon-ored her despise her, for they have seen her na-ked-ness; and now she sighs, and turns her face away. Teth. Uncleaness clung to her skirts, she took no thought of her doom; therefore her fall is terrible, she has no comforter. “O Lord, be-hold my affliction, for the en-emy has tri- umphed.” Je-ru-sa-lem, Je-ru-sa-lem, re-turn to the Lord your God!
